

FIND First Indigenous Workforce Services Inc. specializes in connecting the Indigenous Workforce with careers in a variety of sectors. FIND is owned and operated by First Nations people.

Mandate

Create strategic relationships and initiatives for the Indigenous workforce. Building futures and people through safety and meaningful employment opportunities.

What We Do

We have experience in a cross range of industries and use cloud-based technology. We facilitate the provision of labour supply to meet the needs of industry and projects. Our capacity is to create a workforce strategy to engage, train, and employ a skilled Indigenous workforce.

Mission

We specialize in engaging Indigenous people, Industry and Government to collectively explore strategic partnerships to mobilize the Indigenous workforce.

Experience

We bring a wealth of expertise and knowledge in a variety of sectors, project management and labour supply. Our team has experience in project development and involvement throughout Canada. We have the experience in a cross range of industries, resource development, construction, hospitality and technical expertise.

Sustainability

Demonstrate respect for the quality of life and the environment, First Indigenous Workforce Services Inc. believes integrating environmental aspects into its corporate mission by following principles of safety and course of action; reduce adverse impacts on the environment, promote energy efficiency, promote use of fair trade goods and develop awareness among its personnel.

Safety Training

Demand for online safety training continues to increase as amendments to government regulations are made and new online training standards are set by a variety of independent industry bodies. The result is an ever-increasing need to invest further in training in order to achieve compliance. Online safety training can help supplement a blended learning model, combining online theory delivery with on-site or in-class hands-on instruction and testing.

Our goal is to build futures and people by creating relationships, partnerships, and planning for success.

Training Inventory

Having real time information about your workforce can provide you with an edge to respond to potential employers. Manage your workforce training inventory and supply by implementing technology-based strategies. The Training Record Management System (TRMS) centralizes and organizes training records for employee's and trainees.

Products and Services

Indigenous Workforce Services

We provide services in the promotion, recruitment, and training for the Indigenous workforce. We have established strategic relationships, which provide our clients with results in a cost-effective manner. We know that time, quality, and costs are factors for doing business. Our method is integrating the right skill sets with the right project. We believe this supports our client's vision of being respected organizations with high standards for Indigenous inclusion, health, and safety.

Indigenous and Industry Relations

Developing and maintaining relations with Indigenous People and Industry are essential for community and business development. We specialize in working with Indigenous People to build partnerships, and foster relationships with Industry, based on the principles of trust, communication, and respect.

Custom Designed Training

Working with Indigenous People and Industry, we assist in developing custom designed training initiatives to employ Indigenous People in a variety of sectors. This includes facilitating relationships, prepare a workplan and proposal development.

Consultancy

We are workforce development consultants to provide independent and advisory services. We help organizations achieve their workforce objectives through research and development, advisory, identifying new opportunities, enhance learning, and implement change.
